ZEON Information Systems Co., Ltd. Acquires BS 7799, the Standard for Information Security Management Systems, and ISMS Conformity Assessment Scheme Certification

February 25, 2004

On February 12, 2004, ZEON Information Systems Co., Ltd. (1-1-2 Higashiyama, Meguro-ku, Tokyo; President, Masanobu Inoue), a wholly owned subsidiary of ZEON Corporation (2-6-1 Marunouchi, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO, Naozumi Furukawa), was acknowledged as meeting BS 7799-2:2002, the international Information Security Management Systems (ISMS) Standard for maintaining confidentiality, integrity, and availability of information, while simultaneously meeting the Japanese standard, ISMS Certification Criteria (Ver.2.0), under the ISMS Conformity Assessment Scheme.

These standards cover the confidentiality of information, protection of intellectual property from unauthorized alteration, and availability that allows access to required information when it is necessary.

Not satisfied with simply obtaining certification under ISMS standards, ZEON Information Systems Co. Ltd., which plans, designs, introduces, and maintains information systems for the ZEON Group, will contribute to further promotion of strategic utilization of information and enhancement of the competitiveness of the ZEON Group by continuously improving management to ensure comprehensive security of information assets.
