

Industry leader in special synthetic rubber

March 18, 2003

ZEON is a world leader in the production of general-purpose rubbers used in such products as automobile tires. In addition, ZEON maintains the top position in the world in both type and quantity of various oil-resistant special rubbers such as ZETPOL. ZEON is currently strengthening its production and sales system, linking Japan, the U.S.A. and Europe, while also entering the Asian market through joint ventures in Malaysia and Thailand and business operations in Singapore and Shanghai.
